No Jury, Negro Youth Gets Death

Denouncing the Virginia Suprema Court's decision confirming the death sentence of a 16 year-old Negro boy, Joseph Mickrear-old Negro boy, Joseph Mickens on a filmsily trumped up "rape" charge, as a barbarous travesty on justice, the International Labor Defense last week called for nation-wide support of the campaign urging Gov, James H. The decision, handed down our October 16, upheld a death sentence meted out last December in Waynesboro, at the end of a trial which lasted 45 minutes and was held without a jury, behind close doors.

The alleged victim of the assault could not identify the boy as her assailant and remembered nothing.

The police had a document which was an alleged "confession" extorted from the boy by a combination of torture and plying him with a drink that "made him dizzy."

Milk Profiteering Seen Lowering Health in Defense; Mayor Protests

An increase in the price of milk to 17 cents a quart, the highest in 21 years, has aroused city-wide anger as a menace to the health of the youngsters and youth of New York at a time when adequate nourishment is imperative for national defense.

The latest half-cent increase by Borden Co. and Shemield Farms will apply to 98 per cent of the supply and is the third rise since Aug. 1.

Farmers throughout the state, urged to increase their production of milk and milk products for national defense, have pointed out that the trusts of the state are enabled by the present contract system to fleece the farmer and gouge the public, contrary to the best interests of the defense program.

MAYOR HITS COMPANIES

MAYOR HITS COMPANIES MAYOR HITS COMPANIES
In condemning the latest price rise, Mayor LaGuardia declared: "The milk companies are getting a great deal more out of it than is being paid in wages, and it is unfair to blame labor for this unjustified increase."

Promising to continue his investigation of the milk rise, the Mayor said, "the increase of one-half-cent will require the consumer to pay $495,000 more for milk a month, according to the figures that have been submitted to me. The labor increase will cost only $167,505 more a month. There is therefore, a net gain to the major milk companies of $326,495 a month which makes a net increase of $3,917,940 per annum."

tacks on the movie industry is suggested by material released this week by the Anti-Defamation League.

According to the League, a certain G. Allison Phelps, Los Angeles radio commentator, who has for the past year been consistently attacking the movie industry with thinly-veiled anti-Semitism, has been conferring with peasement Senators.

Phelps is the author of a scurrilous pamphlet called

"Hollywood, Tower of Babel" in which the demand for a movie probe was first made.

Chief backers of Phelps, according to the League, are Winfield Sheehan, former Pox producer, and Russell

Mack, it is charged, visited Nazi Germany shortly before the war and there is reported to have conferred with a Herr Lichtenstein, a Goebbels assistant now in Paris; a Fraulein Reimann, then employed at the German embassy in London; and a Herr Bohle, head of the Foreign Section of the Nazi Party.

Mack's agitation against the movie industry dated from his return from that trip, it is charged.

Sheehan, who is linked to Mack's activities, also is charged to have Nazi connections in Germany, evidence of which is seen in the report that when ace cameraman Richard Rosson visited Europe some years ago he was given letters of introduction by Sheehan to Lichtenstein and two other important Nazi propagands attaches in Vienna. These letters helped Rosson become disentangled from difficulties he encountered with the Gestapo. The Anti-Defamation League charges now that "Phelps recently boasted of the fact that he had gone to Washington to confer with isolationist Senators." He is quoted as saying that "Mr. Smith went to Washington and see what happened to him. G. Allison Phelps went to Washington and now see what is happening to Hollywood."

The League asserts that "Sheehan, Mack and Phelps form a deadly triangle, feeding lies, anti-Semitic canards and Nazi-type propaganda to the American people via the radio, the U. S. malls, and printed matter."

Rail Leaders Ask FDR To Settle Wage Issue

Men Are Eager for a Peaceful Adjustment of Demands; Oppose Any Interruption in Defense Effort

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 .- President Roosevelt was urged today to act to secure a just settlement of the railroad wage controversy with the understanding that "railroad labor is anxious to prevent a strike on the railroads at this time of national crisis."

The plea was made in the third of a series of radio broadcasts of the Chicago Counci of Railroad Lodges by Walter H. Villiers, secretary.

Speaking over station WHIP,

Villiers declared:

right repeal of the Neutrality Act.

"The neutrality act threatens the security of the United States.

"The neutrality act threatens the security of the United States. To defeat Hitler and establish a lasting peace based upon the rights and needs of the people throughout the world, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers has gone on record as in favor of all-out aid to Great Britain, Russia and China, and any other nation fighting Hitler.

"We reiterate the position and call for the repeal of the Neutrality Act, the arming of merchant vessels in order that the weapons we are producing might reach the hands of the valiant fighters in Britain, Russia and China."

"Naturally, the big question in the minds of the American people is that of a railroad strike at this time of national danger. Let there be no misunderstanding. If the railroad workers are forced to strike, the blame will rest solely with the profit-greedy, unpatriotic railroad owners, whose committees from the beginning have rejected

SEEK PEACEFUL SOLUTION "No doubt there has been considerable speculation on the part of the public as to why our unions rejected arbitration as proposed by the President's board. This does not and Russian war relief has been set up by the Baltimore Industrial rejecting the possibility of a peaceable settlement. While not attempting to force these issues to a strike, they want to retain some degree of control over this dispute to accept or reject recommenda-tions as they affect the welfare of their membership. Arbitration would not permit this, as its deci-sions would be final and binding." Villiers further declared:

"The entire labor movement and the government are anxious to prevent a strike on the railroads at this time. The very safety of the country depends on a continuous flow of war materials from American factories to ports for trans-shipment to our allies fighting Hit-ler abroad. This work is performed by the railroad workers.

"Therefore, the responsibility falls upon the government to compel the companies to grant an adequate and all other candidates of the American Labor Party.

Efforts of James W. Fitspatrick, representing the Conciliation Service of the Department of Labor, to get a new agreement between the American Communication Association, CIO, and RCA Communications, which had been resumed at Fitspatrick's request were broken off again, Joseph F. Negotiations collapsed when management representatives denied union's demand for closed shop and increased wages.

The present agreement between the appointment agreement between the company and the union expires on Oct. 31. Employees of RCA Communications have voted to empower their negotiating committee to call any action up to and including strike.

Emergency Board Completes Hearings-Report to President November 5th

For over five weeks, the President's Emergency Board, or Fact-Finding Committee, has been conducting hearings on the wage increase and vacation requests of some 1,150,000 railroad employes. Held at Kimball Hall, Chicago. these hearings finally terminated last Wednesday, Oct. 22, 1941.

The five-man board, on the basis of arguments and evidence presented by our organizations and by spokesmen for the railroads, now has the job of making recommendations to President Roosevelt for settlement of the controversy. While the board's recommendations are not legally binding on either party, they will undoubtedly carry much weight in the ultimate settlement.

Anticipation and Anxiety

We, who work on the roads, are awaiting the board's report with combined anticipation and anxiety. Not only is it a matter of bread and butter for us, but for the country at large it is also a question of vital importance.

These are not ordinary times. These are days when American deeracy is pulling itself together to defend its ideals and integrity from the flood of Nazi terror which threatens to engulf the world. America becomes more and more alive to the fact that our own safety is at stake in the battles of the Red Army and the British fleet-to that extent capacity operation of the railroads becomes of increasing importance. Today it is mainly a problem of production and transport lies to those who fight Hitler abroad—especially the Red Army bearing the full brunt of Hitler's fury. On some tomorrow, it may become a question of transporting and supplying American ops to meet, defeat and keep from our shores—the threat of Nazi

We are sure that the President's Emergency Board will realize the relation of their report to the all-important issue of national defense. It is not only a question of avoiding the possibility of a nation-wide rail strike. Equally essential is the establishment of such wage scales and conditions as will strengthen the efficiency and morale of the army of workers who maintain and operate the vast network of American

Wage Increases and Minimums-Vacations and Rules

The major points, with which the board's reports will have to deal, are the demands for general wage increases, adequate minimum wages and vacations with pay. Also their report will have to give consideration to management demands for certain drastic rules changes.

In respect to wages, there is no question in the collective mind of ilroad workers that general wage increases will be recommended by the President. Even the management spokesmen, faced by unanswerable evidence of our rights to pay raises and our determination to secure them, have seen fit to make certain tricky and inadequate offers which our union committees correctly refused to accept. THE QUES-TION IS-WILL THE BOARD RECOMMEND THE GRANTING OF THE FULL MEASURE OF OUR WAGE DEMANDS? AND IF NOT-HOW LARGE AN INCREASE WILL THEY RECOMMEND?

Likewise the demand of our fourteen non-operating unions for a 70-cent per hour minimum. It is impossible that the board will consider as adequate the sub-standard 36 cents per hour minimum, which at present applies to some 70,000 rail workers. Establishment of the 70 cents minimum would not only accomplish a very necessary improvement in the living standards of these workers, but would also serve to wipe out many unfair differentials in rates of pay. Thousands of unjust differentials now exist between various low-pay groups of employes, who perform the same class of work but receive widely differing rates of pay. These inequalities constitute daily sources of aggravation among large numbers of employes and could be wiped out at one sweep by raising all low-pay workers to a 70-cent per hour

We do not see how the Administration, which allows vacations to all federal employes, from the President to the sweepers in government ildings, can do otherwise than recommend to railroad managements that the health, morale and efficiency of rail workers be conserved through the granting of two weeks' vacation with pay. Vacations are such a generally accepted practice in all other industries that there is no longer room for argument against allowing them on the roads. sidents—who find the industry able to struggle along while they oy their vacations—can hardly deny the poss ilar privileges to us On the rules changes which managements injected into this situation as a counter-attack on the unions. They are so drastic that it is hardly possible that the Emergency Board will give them consideration. The board is bound to recognize that the attempt to apply any of these proposed rules changes would bring a state of chaos to the roads at a. when efficient operation is essential to the national welfare. It would be only proper for the board to blast the roads for even offering such disruptive proposals for consideration.

Four Months' Rack Pau

On June 10, of this year, our organizations served 30-day notices on the roads for wage increases to be effective July 10, 1941. On Nov. 5, when the board reports to the President, nearly four months will have clapsed during which time the roads have used every device of the Railway Labor Act to stall the granting of wage increases. This delay considerably discredited the Rallway Labor Act with the rank and

Our long wait can only be justified and our long patience rewarded by providing that wage increases be made retroactive to July 10, the effective date of our original request. Anything less than that will leave rail workers dissatisfied and disgruntled with the slow-moving processes

Hill's Acts and Fish's Activities

· America's consciousness can be shocked into full alertness by the revelations concerning Representative Hamilton Fish which have led to the indictment of his secretary.

The circumstances surrounding this indictment have much about them that is reminiscent of the activities of Clement Vallandigham in the Civil War. A member of Congress, Vallandigham was in direct and corrupt correspondence with the enemies of the Republic in its darkest hour of peril. The secretary of the New York Congressman is found to be engaged in much the same offenses.

Perjury is the technical charge on which the indicted man, George Hill, will go to trial. This perjury, however, arose from his concealment of his close relationship with George Sylvester Viereck, veteran anti-American agent of the Nazis. It also consists of Hill's false denial that he had knowledge of the disappearance of bales of appeasement literature, franked by Fish for a Nazi-financed agency.

These offenses of Fish's secretary against the nation's security grew directly out of his adhesion to Fish's appeaser views. Hill's acts can no more be divorced from the Congressman's political activities to injure America's defense than the mountain could be compelled to go to Mohammed. What Hill has been doing in cooperation with paid Nazi agents is precisely what Fish has been adrocating in effect, in his counsel of surrender

When Hamilton Fish opens his mouth, the American people can now understand that it is Hitler who is speaking. This is Fifth Columnism of the most dangerous sort. The activities of the Fifth Column do not consist only in dropping parachutists behind the lines of a nation's defenders. They are also most effective in the subtle advantage they take of "free speech," to poison the public mind and lead to the paralysis of the public will.

Enough has been brought to light in the Fish-Hill case to justify a much deeper probe into the organizational and financial tie-up between Berlin and those preaching appeasement in America. The governmental agencies entrusted with rooting out sedition will be remiss in the discharge of their responsibilities unless they proceed with much more diligence to carry forward such a

Three and a Half

Three and a half weeks ago Hitle began against Moscow his "last great decisive battle of the year." He hurled into that attempt all the weapons of death and destruction which looted Europe affords.

The Red Army and the civilians of Mosw girded to fight to the last man, the last street and the last house, conscious of their role of protecting London and New York, they stood dauntless at the bleak approaches to their capital city, with the same determination that won world admiration for the defenders of Leningrad. They are still fighting with a heroism and brilliance unknown in the memory of man, and Hitler's objective of taking Moscow is still unattained.

But Moscow continues in grave peril. The press tells of Hitler's effort to resume the ow offensive in all its ferocity. The Soviet Union recounts the terrific losses suffered by the Nazis, and at the same time warns that the "locusts still come on." As the brown plague moves deeper into the plains of Russia, it inches closer to New York

With his drive edging into the vicinity of Kharkov and Rostov, Hitler is seeking to deprive the Soviet Union of its industrial capacity, its very means of defense. The battle of production in America is thus raised to a new oint of immediacy. This battle must be speeded up and won, and with the magnificent genius of American industry—it can be won. The new armies which Voroshilov and Budyenny are organizing for Soviet—and for our defense—must have arms, tanks, planes and munitions. Every step Hitler makes in the Don basin brings his stukas and panzers ser to the mines, mills and factories of the

The Soviet Union, determined to wipe out Hitler, is leaving nothing undone to accom-lish the task. Leningrad and Moscow still tand as a monument to this determination. oviet citizens who built all their achieveents with such love, skill and pride sacrifice nem unflinchingly to make every Nazi conest an empty one. When Hitler marched in-Belgium and other central European countries he was left weapons and factories which could be used against Britain and America But, when, for example, the Nazis marched into Kiev and Odessa, they found, instead of smoking furnaces and waiting machinery, barren wastes, leveled factories, and lethal

With the Soviet people bearing the full measure of the Nazi drive to world conquest, is it any wonder that the American people are "What is our country waiting for?" The Red Army has given Britain and America the opportunity to smash the demon which places them next on his list. The workers of America are anxious to outproduce Hitler—the people are ready to out-fight him. What kind of mentality can there be that would permit Hitler to seize three fifths of the world—before America ends half-way measures and moves with its full military and industrial might to defend itself. What kind-except the mentality of the appeasers or Hitler? Let the defenders of Moscow know that this country intends to put everything into the battle to destroy the common enemy of humanity.

An Ingenious Appeasement Propagandist

· Unfailingly resourceful in finding methods for confusing the people, Mr. William Philip Simms of the Scripps-Howard press has just dug up a new one.

In his Wednesday dispatch from Washington, he quotes an anonymous military big-wig who puts on a naive air and asks: "Many feel the Russian situation is hopeless. Maybe it is. But why should Russia's collapse make Britain's position hopeless?"

The alert reader can easily detect the appeasement trickery in this kind of stuff. There are two distinct falsehoods in it, concealed behind the pretense of an optimistic

First, it assumes falsely that the Soviet Union is defeated, and deliberately spreads this pro-Nazi defeatism; secondly, it deliberately obscures the fact that the fate of Britain and the United States are inextricably involved with the Soviet Union's struggle against Hitler.

Month after month and year after year, Mr. Simms has been an apostle of appeasement. His latest theory that a Hitler conquest of the Soviet Union will not in any way have ruinous consequences for the United States is about as dangerous a theory that any American could hear. It is exactly the kind of chloroform delusions that Nazi Berlin would like to see filling the minds of the American people.

For in touting this propaganda, Mr. Simms is actually delaying the necessary military collaboration between the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union which can crush the common enemy.

Every single fact of recent history adds new proof to the realization that German fascism and its Japanese partner in crime are sharpening their knives for the United States once they "take care of" Britain and the Soviet Union. When Mr. Simms insidiously instills into the public mind the delusion that a Soviet defeat will merely make things tough for Britain and not for the United States, he is performing for America the kind of treachery by which Petain brought France to disaster.

Their Unbroken Record

· In every election the Communist candidates have established an unbroken record of bringing before the people the central issues of the campaign.

In the present city elections, the Communists have pointed out that the paramount issue is all-out unity for the defeat of Hitlerism. They have shown, with singular clarity, that the way to achieve this objective is to defeat Mr. O'Dwyer who represents the camp of appeasement and Tammany corruption.

The greater value and responsibility of the Communists to the voting public is confirmed by taking only one of many examples which could be brought forward. Peter V. Cacchione, councilmanic candidate in Brooklyn, performed a public service when he un-earthed the fact that O'Dwyer, who supported Hitler's puppet Franco, promised to repudiate him if he did not establish a democracy in Spain. O'Dwyer's failure to do so-in the face of Franco's totalitarian regime—is a revealing commentary on his campaign promises.

Cacchione's patriotic initiative is typical of his fellow Communist candidates for the City Council-Israel Amter in Manhattan, Isidore Begun, the Bronx, and Paul Crosbie in Queens. All four of them are tested and experienced fighters against fascism and Tammany reaction.

The Citizens Union's comment upon the four Communist candidates-for example, it described Crosbie as "well qualified for useful service"-reflects the growing appreciation of Communist standard bearers and the confidence they enjoy in the community.

Possibilities of the widest support among voters exist for the Communist candidates. They can be elected. Their presence in the City Council would be a most vivid demonstration of the city's united will against fascism and the political underworld.

Please Don't Hurt Our Darling Hitler--Is Cry of N.Y. Daily News

· From the editorial room of the New York Daily News there has come a cry of horror and consternation.

Has somebody's baby been kidnapped? Has some one proposed some specially evil scheme against the human race?

Well, judge for yourself. In its editorial on Thursday morning, the Daily News emitted a loud cry of alarm as follows:

"All this indicates that Roosevelt contemplates nothing short of an all-out war of annihilation against Hitler and his partymeaning a war in which Europe will be eventually invaded, Berlin taken, the Nazi leaders executed or exiled, and Germany dismembered. . . .

Pretty awful isn't it? They want to crush our darling Hitler! Help! Save Hitler from the terrible Americans, British and Russian armies! Save the Nazis!

Such is the cesspool of pro-Nazi swill swishing around in the editorial rooms of the Daily News (N. Y. edition of Hitler's Voelkische Beobachter, it should be called).

The one thing that the New York Daily News does not want to see is a Germany liberated from Hitlerism. In the eyes of the Daily News, Hitler is a necessity for Europe whom the United States should not disturb in his blood-soaked aggressions. Notice in the above quotation how Hitler is identified with Germany; the News cannot conceive of a Germany without Hitler.

The deepest lie of all in the Daily News appeasement platform is that Hitler does not menace the United States. American defense against Hitler is presented as an act of charity we are supposed to be per-forming for some people "over there." Hitler's sinking of our ships, and the Fascist plan for encircling the United States with a Nazi world, are brushed aside as if they did not exist.

We don't have to go to betrayed France to get the stench of the Fifth Column press. In the New York Daily News we can see the disgusting thing in action before our eyes.

This grovelling love for Hitler in Europe is compatible neither with respect for American democracy nor with trust worthiness in defense of American security.

It is no wonder, then, that we find the Daily News counselling abject surrender to Japan as well as Hitler, while it has been caught in the past dishing out typical anti-Semitic sneers.

P. S. Is there no justice in the world? If Hitler gave Lindbergh a medal, why doesn't he reward his faithful admirer, the Daily News, with one? Surely, they have worked as hard for it as Lindbergh has.

BACK TO THEIR MASTER

 The horror which the entire country feels at the execution of hostages by the Nazis was well voiced by President Roosevelt.

This practice, said the President, "revolts world already inured to suffering and brutality. . . . Those who would 'collaborate' with Hitler or try to appease him cannot ignore this ghastly warning."

But is it not incongruous that while the country speaks its indignation, the diplomatic representatives of the executioner and his Vichy agents should still be permitted to remain within our borders? Will not our expression of anger be many times more effective if followed up by the breaking off of relations with Hitler and his puppets?

The presence of Hitler's agents here is both an insult to the brave French people and a blot upon American national honor. It is time for the government to tell these men to pack up and go home to their blood-

"The Greatest Scourge of Mankind"

Editor, Daily Worker:

Enclosed you will find the lead editorial in the Oct. 18 Christian Leader, the religious journal of the Universalist Church of America.

The statement deserves publicity in your paper because it expresses the real sentiment of the church membership; and further because many pacifists and pro-Hitlerite people are giving our country the false impression that the Universalist denomination is un-willing to defend our country and our church.

I should also inform you that the Protestant edition of the Dean of Canterbury's book, "The Soviet Power," is having an increasing effect of blasting the falsities about the Soviet Union. I am now convinced that complete religious freedom exists in Russia. Any persons who raise the issue of religious freedom now are only seeking to divide our church and our country on the real issue of destroying Hitler. Sincerely yours,

MILNER DUNN,

Pastor Universalist Church. The following is the text of the editorial mentione

"HELP FOR RUSSIA

"Whatever our opinions of Stalin or of Communis cr of the attitude of the Union of Soviet Republics toward religion, there can be little question as to the skill and gallantry of the Russian people fighting to the death for the independence of their country. They are not taking advantage of the opportunity to get rid of Stalin, but they are closing up the gaps in the files and putting up a fight which elicits the admiration of all the world except the rulers of the New Order There is much that is virile and fine in the Russian people. Traditionally, Russia has been friendly to our country. We favor the largest possible aid to Russia without attempting to drive bargains at this juncture over future freedom of religion or whether Stalin shall be retained as leader, or over the Communist International or a partition of the staling of the ional or anything else.
"Nothing lies closer to the convictions or the emotional reactions of Universalists than freedom of religion. But Universalists than freedom of re-ligion, But Universalists as a rule know their history, and they know that some hard, despotic things in the Soviet attitude toward religion are due to the fact that the priests in the past have been apostles of revolution and churches the centers of political intrigue. We offer no defense of the Soviets, but we attempt to

"The way to make Communists like the de is for the democracies to try to understand, and to help in a desperate struggle against Nazism, a force that is the greatest scourge of mankind since the days of Attila the Hun.

"When united effort has ended the career of Hitler, it will be time enough to negotiate about changes in sian law and practice."

Contradiction

Editor, Daily Worker:

The commentators on the radio all seem to have a little story of their own. It is just heart-rending to hear the dastardly lies that are put out for the people to read and listen to.

There is one glaring contradiction in the way our country is fighting fascism. Some of the best anti-fascists are in jail and foes of democracy occupy high

Disagrees With Mr. Baruch

Brooklyn, N. Y.

Editor, Daily Worker: Bernard Baruch's statement in the Daily Worker of Oct. 6, "that the workers' wages never advance fast as the cost of living," destroys his whole case for placing a ceiling over wages, which he claims is so necessary in order to control prices or commodities.

A ceiling over wages as advocated by Mr. Baruch would be an entering wedge toward the establishmen in the USA of the very same system of economic fasiism that is in operation in Germany and Italy. It means maximum production, maximum hours, a remeans maximum production, maximum hours, a reduced standard of living for the workers and greater profits for capital. He said, "that the Constitution prohibits taking a man's right to strike as long as he was work-Let us suppose that a ceiling were placed on wages (this is really a wage-cutting device), and, let us fur-ther suppose that the workers in a plant that had been taken over by the government, walked out on been taken over by the government, walked out on strike in order to protect their standard of living. Technically, the workers in that plant are not working for private interests in spite of the fact that the plant is owned by private interests who are deriving a profile from its operation by the government. Since the government does not recognize the right to strike against it, how would Mr. Baruch apply labor's constitutional right to strike in such a case?

Wants Sunday Worker War Map

Editor, Daily Worker:

In writing this letter I would like to suggest that the Sunday Worker publish a huge map of the world on good paper. It should be at least double the size of the standard newspaper page. I suppose it could be called a map to show what is going on in the world. The map should be packed with information, size of armies and navies, location of industrial regions, rivers, railroads and ports. Peace time and special war time shipping lanes on land and sea should also be included. Ways should be found to show the work peacetime communications do in war time, etc.

Such a war map would be a tremendous booster

Such a war map would be a tremendous booster for the Sunday Worker and I believe that many people will become acquainted with the newspaper because Anti-Fascists Take Note!

New York, N. Y. Editor, Daily Worker:

The "America First" friends of Hitler will hold a meeting next Thursday in Madison Square Garden with the aid of thousands of free tickets distributed by Coughlinites and Christian Fronters.

1 observe that on the same night a meeting is being held at Webster Hall, where the speakers will be Mike Quin, Mike Gold, William Blake and other prominent fighters for the anti-Hitler front. I think that one of the best ways of shewing up the real "isolation" of fighters for the anti-Huter front. I think that one of the best ways of showing up the real "isolation" of the "America Firsters"—their isolation from the democratic-loving people of New York—would be to jam that meeting at Webster Hall with thousands of antiRal_I Of

Behind the Candid Cameraman

How the Job Is Learned at The Photo League

By Milton Meltzer

The camera has become reading, editing, considering, thousands of poems. In the course of this work they kept up a voluminous correspondence with poets and friends and fellow-workers in
and friends and fellow-workers in the world. Quite unique in the world of contemporary American poetry, Ralph Cheyney and Lucis Trent functioned as a unit. They cdited, wrote, taught, worked, as one.

"Who is the best contemporary American poet?" Cheyney was often asked. His answer was, "Why this competitive sprit in the arts? Oooperation must replace competition if we are every to grow civilized. To be a real poet is enough."

Ralph Cheyney stood squarely with the working class. He organized, he agitated, he propagandized.
He did not think of himself first.
His work in teaching poetry was just as much the work of teaching what life is and what it can"beand how to bring the "brave new world" of the future about. These words about Debs, written by Cheyney, show well the attitude with which the poet approached every working-class subject:

"Poetry," said Ralph, "being the most passionate verbal expression of the most passionate life, is necessarily a revolutionary force misunderstood or hated by the coxyminded and the authoritarians."

Seeking the correct message, and the best form in which to clothe it, Ralph Cheyney came upon a prindaw.

WAY DOWN EAST

THE thing I like about Fred Ellis is that he appreciates good music and can sing the song about the Codfish

There are a lot of dilettantes (people who pretend to be very smart about things when they really don't know much) who profess to be music lovers and even musicians, but who have never even heard of the Codfish Ball Song. The Philharmonis symphony orchestra has never even played it. They don't dare. It's too revolutionary.

Another thing I like about Fred Eilis is his wife. And still another thing his son. But let's finish with the Codfish Ball first.

Most people think of Pred as a painter and cartoonist. His talents as a singer have never been properly appreciated. Conventional musicians dis-properly appreciated. Conventional musicians discriminate against him because he cannot hold a tune and sings off key. The fact remains, he can sing the song about the Godfish Ball, while they never even heard of it, and that's the real test.

All the patient struggling, all the pain and tears and groping for truth of dissatisfied humanity cry out in this song. All the evils of the capitalist society man has confounded himself with are stripped bare.

It starts out slowly, wistfully, as most great symphonies do, gradually working up to a dynamic, roaring, smaing emotional climax.

A little man walks down the street, modestly looking for someth to e-e-at. I don't know the verses exactly, but I'll give you the pure.

He hasn't much money, but he wants something to e-e-eat.
goes into a restaurant, hangs up his hat and sits down quietly. T waiter brings him a bill of fare. He scans it patiently, reading all it items. There is only one dish that fits his purse. He has just enou money for one codfish ball, which he orders politely.

The waiter in indignant, as well he might be. The emotio auspense is great. Words and music rise to majestic pomp agai the background of the little man's humiliation:

"The waiter roared it down the hall,
"This man has ordered one tash beareal."

"The waiter roared it down the hall,
"This man has ordered one fish ba-a-all."

Here the audience, in a flood of uncontrollable emotion, usually joins in, repeating the lines and drowning out the singer. But the high point has not been reached, and the haunting feeling of something greater and more terrible to come is in the air.

Screwing his courage to a state of almost hysterical recklessness, the little man asks for a piece of bread to eat with the codfish ball. The almost revolutionary daring of the suggestion steals your breath for one moment. All of mankind's dreams of utopia unfold in a fisshing vista before the mind's eye. Then with crushing, dynamic force, the voice of capitalistic reality breaks in smashing everything before it:

"The waiter roared it through the hall:

"You gets no bread with one fish ba-a-all."

In a reactionary, almost fascist, sadistic frenzy the audience joins in, repeating the lines again and again until the walls vibrate and the chandeller sways in the wind of their singing.

Then instantly, everyone seems to realize the cruelty of what they have said. The vision of the little man, crushed in humiliation shines through and shames the singers.

Softly, regretfully, with an almost Communistic note of resentment, the final chorus drives home the whole awful truth of capitalistic relations between man and man:

"There is a moral to it all,
"You gets no bread with one fish ba-a-all."

On the West Coast we have a magnificent singer, Myrto Sawvelle who also sings this song in a manner to make the walls tremble and the window panes rattle. Her version is even more dramatic than Fred's because she uses gestures which approximate calisthenics, and imitates all facial expressions.

Ambition of my life is to hear the Philharmonic orchestra play the Codfish Ball, with a great mass chorus singing the words and the Joost Ballet combined with the Ballet Russe depicting the scene.

On the Scoreboard:

The Bates Campaign Didn't Lose! Jim Crow. Tradition Smashed Twice

Hey, NYU students! Remember last fall's tremendous, unprecedented campaign against the Jim Crow benching of Negro player Bates in the game at Missouri?

With 3,500 student signatures on "Bates Must Play" petitions within 24 hours? With 30 campus organizations anging from the Young Communist League through the Young Republican Club, sororities, dramatic groups and fraternities putting out leaflets and joining in a common united outburst against un-American, undemocratic discrimination? With the Coach and players of Holy Cross College and Georgetown of Washington, D. C., lauding Bates and saying it was a damn shame he was being kept out of the game? With the Coach and players of Missouri themselves saying they had no objection to Bates playing, throwing the guilt right where it belonged, in the lap of the University heads who refused to move and change in conformity with the growth of democratic understanding? With a torrent of support from other colleges all over the land—even from Alabama University, where students sent up a resolution of support for the fight? With the meetings in the rain of Washington Square—the delegations, placards, open discussions which the hypocrisy of the Jim Crow apologists was blasted?

The fight was "lost"—Bates didn't play in the Missouri game.

But it wasn't lost. Not one little bit of it, not one coffee stained signature on one of the lunch room petitions. It went wide and it went deep. It went over to Harvard and Boston University, it went up to Cornell and down to the Naval Academy at Annapolis and this football season two things have already happened that never happened before.

The first happened a week from Saturday. You didn't read about in the newspapers because the newspapers didn't publish it.

It in the newspapers because the newspapers didn't publish it. . . You may remember how they treated the Bates case, the newspapers. We didn't know about it ourselves till recently.

That 'Tradition'

It happened at Baltimore in the game between Navy and Cornell before 45,000 people. There's been a "tradition" that no Negro athlete compete on the same field as white in Baltimore. The Naval any and all Maryland Universities, like those to the South, have "understood" that any Northern team coming down to play would leave its Negro players at home. It's a tradition that had nothing in common with the feelings of the players of the Southern school. as has been shown countless times when they came north and played against Negro stars here—when North Carolina players returned home to vote an NYU Negro player the finest they had met all year when players from Texas told us last year that they would have re-fused to play if Long Island University had insulted them by with-drawing Negro player Bill King from the game—when Negro and white basketball and track stars from all over the land fraternize in ents at Madison Square Garden.

It's a tradition that has nothing in

It's a tradition that has nothing in common with the basic sportsmanship of the American sports fan — (and when you subtract the 'merican "sports fan" from the rest of the American people there aren't too many left). THAT'S been shown conclusively by the according to the conclusively by the conclusively by conclusively by the reception given Joe Louis when the same slave market tradition was smashed in Washington, D. C., in a prize fight ring . . . the great crowds that turned out to cheer Henry Armstrong in the ring as the former lightweight champion broke the same tradition by fighting white opponents in St. Louis, Baltimore and Washington.

This Saturday in Baltimore the officials of the Naval Academy adm't made any specific request to Cornell to leave Sam Pierce at the come because his skin is black. Maybe it was because they had been shaken last spring by the fighting protest of Harvard students so shaken last spring by the fighting protest of Harvard students against the "request" to bench a Negro lacrosse player at Annapolis—a protest that followed on the heels of the Bates campaign at NYU and flowed right from it in student organization and improved organizational and publicity methods. Maybe they just didn't know that Cornell had an 18-year-old Negro sophomore who was a third string right halfback. Or maybe they thought that Cornell understood and would use the discretion without a "greenest" after all possible of the property of the string right halfback. stood and would use its discretion without a "request"—after all no Negro player EVER had appeared on the Baltimore gridiron with a

Now about the Cornell coach—Carl Snavely. You may recall that his name has been recently listed by the "America First" appeasement committee as a member. We said last week that we didn't know how much Snavely knew about the aims and objects of the America First crowd and hoped some of our readers would send him copies of the "New Masses" expose. That goes double now. It's apparent that Snavely has nothing in common with the aims of the minority who would paralyze our resistance to Nazism's avowed world conquest scheme while trying to spread Hitler's phony race divisions here. When Snavely sent Pierce onto the Baltimore gridfron he not only chose the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments to the United States Constitution in preference to discredited, un-American discrimination, he also struck a blow against Hitler and his native followers of the also struck a blow against Hitler and his native followers of the America "First" bunch who aim to disunite the American people. Boston U. and Maryland

Now—Boston University, with two Negro stars named Charlie Thomas and Howie Mitchell, was scheduled to play Western Maryland in Baltimore last Friday night. Two years ago Thomas, then a sophomore, was left in Boston by the "request" of Western Maryland in a similar game. This year the Boston University students protested a lot louder. And the student newspaper pointed out that Pierce of Cornell had played at Baltimore the week before.

on Wednesday morning the presidents of the two universities announced that after a phone conversation they had agreed that Thomas and Mitchell should play. The decision, the y said, was prompted by "sportsmanship and good feeling." Thomas and Mitchell went down to Baltimore with the team. Both played almost the entire game. Thomas scored one touchdown and starred throughout as Boston beat Western Maryland 14-0. He received a rousing ovation when he left the game with two minutes to go. His opponents patted him on the back and shook his hand. The game ended, the band played and the Baltimore crowd went home.

crowd went home. Len Bates didn't play in the Missouri game last year. But the paign of the NYU students didn't lose. Pierce played and Thoma: ed and Mitchell played and before too long the whole rotter hated remnants of Jim Crow are going to be thrown off the field of American sports and into the garbage heap where they belong.

Fordham showed the explosive striking power of its magnificent backfield in meeting the challenge of a good Texas Christian team and breaking away irresistably in the fourth quarter to win 28-14. Sophmore Andreico showed his go-to-town metile in breaking away twice for teiling long runs.
